The Premier International Women's Economic Forum

THE  BAL
SUMMIT OF WOMEN

The Global Summit of Women was conceived as the nexus at which all sectors—public, private and nonprofit—would come together under the common vision of dramatically expanding women’s economic opportunities globally through exchanges of working solutions and creative strategies forged by women leaders in different parts of the world.

THE SUMMIT

- ♀ Offers a solutions-oriented approach to improving women’s economic opportunities worldwide
- ♀ Provides practical sessions on increasing women’s ability to conduct cross-border business
- ♀ Explores uses of e-commerce and technology to expand and to grow women-owned enterprises
- ♀ Provides a structured forum for women corporate leaders to form global alliances
- ♀ Explores issues and trends that impact women’s economic opportunities
- ♀ Spotlights women’s business and governmental leadership
- ♀ Provides a showcase— Women’s Expo (WEXPO)— to display products of women-owned businesses from around the world

(2021 Summit—Lisbon)

“ I felt as if we were all linked with such strength. It was not power, it was much deeper, as if a new era is coming. I felt new global energy — taking care of each other, doing your best without expecting anything, and enough faith in our future to no longer fear it. It was encouraging to all of us.”

- Beatrice Ferrant
CEO, Lefranc Ferrant
(2019 Summit—Switzerland)

“ Thank you once again for a wonderful Global Summit of Women. This year, like previous years, was very special with many “once in a lifetime” moments. The content is timely and value-added, the speakers are engaging, and the networking is exceptional! My colleagues used words like “life changing” and “inspiring” to describe their experiences.”

(2015 Summit—Brazil)

CONNECTING WOMEN, IMPACTING THE WORLD

“ It was a pleasure to be part of this Summit. It was my first one .. just a word: amazing! Great presentations, great professionals, great workshops. To see all these women gathered around a common theme, a common goal was really a strong motivation to continue.”

— Isabelle Kuster, Senior
Vice President for Operations and IT, McDonald's France

“ At what other conference, seminar or summit could I have my picture taken with women from Mongolia, talk about the current events in South Africa from women who are living it everyday, and have several offers from Vietnamese women to make me a traditional Ao Sai!

- Lisa Mitchell,
Vice President and Manager,
Wells Fargo Bank, USA

“ It was impressive to meet so many prestigious and high-ranking women from all over the world who have a strong commitment to business and diversity. It was not any one specific presentation or session at the Summit that informed me, but returning to my day-to-day business, I felt energized to make the difficult decisions that are part of my work because of the commitment and empowerment that I drew from the Summit from so many women leaders.”

SUMMIT PRESIDENT: IRENE NATIVIDAD

Irene Natividad, a recognized leader for women in the United States and throughout the world, is Chair of the GlobeWomen Research and Education Institute, President of the Global Summit of Women, an annual international gathering of women leaders from around the world on business/economic issues, and Chair of Corporate Women Directors International (CWDI), which promotes the increased participation of women on corporate boards globally.

Based in Washington, D.C., Ms. Natividad is the force behind the 31-year old Global Summit of Women, informally called “The Davos for Women” by past participants for the caliber of its attendees and presenters, as well as its mix of business and government leaders. As CWDI Chair, she has produced 31 reports in 24 years on women directors in different countries, regions, and industries and has convened women board directors and executives to “ring the opening bell” at 21 Stock Exchanges based in different countries to date — a business tradition in which she feels women must be seen.

Long known for her coalition work, Ms. Natividad has served on numerous boards of directors and advisory boards including corporate advisory boards for Cigna, Wyndham International, and currently on L’Oreal. In 1994, she was appointed to the Board of Directors of Sallie Mae, a Fortune 100 company, by President Clinton, where she served for eight years.

At the international level, Ms. Natividad has worked to include women’s voices and issues in global forums such as the OECD, World Bank, UN agencies, the European Forum for New Ideas, and Global Solutions Forum. She has been part of the T-20 (think tank for G20), W-20 (women’s arm of the G20) and was appointed by President Macron to the G7 Advisory Council on Gender Equality during France’s presidency in 2019. She also is currently a member of the UN Global Compact Target Gender Equality Global Coalition. In 2021, her national and international efforts to improve the situation of women in the economic and political arenas was recognized as Chevalier of the National Order of Legion of Honor (Legion d’Honneur) by decree of President Macron.
